

Congressional help needed for climate change bill

To the Editors: Thank you for publishing the climate change column by Pam Hunt and Loren Valliere (New Hampshire Sunday News, April 13). They emphasize that the EPA is looking for support for its plans to curb carbon emissions. Residents can offer support for these plans, or they can urge U.S. Sen. Kelly Ayotte to sponsor bipartisan climate change legislation. Congressional climate change legislation will do a far better job at curbing emissions than EPA efforts.
