

To a revenue-neutral carbon tax

Re: "Exxon's Push for a Carbon Tax--Imagine if other energy firms were on board, too," Thursday Editorials. What a wonderful development! Citizens' Climate Lobby volunteers have been working to create the political will for a stable climate, and we believe that revenue-neutral carbon pricing legislation is the best policy option.

We met with almost every congressional office in June and were delighted by the positive change in atmosphere regarding carbon pricing. We anticipate that the next Congress will get to work on revenue-neutral carbon fees and we anticipate legislation will be passed in 2017.
