

Urge Rep. Scott Tipton to sponsor a national carbon pricing bill

Gorgeous editorial on Paris Climate Accord, on the need to act locally and support for a local carbon tax! You rightly conclude that it will take widespread efforts to make Paris more than a pipe dream. It will take a national U.S. carbon pricing system (call it a tax, a price, a fee). Divvy up the revenue, and distribute it to the public in equal shares so the tax isn't regressive. Or use some of the revenue to help mining communities cope with the end of their major source of income and jobs.

Readers should please urge Rep. Scott Tipton to sponsor a national carbon-pricing bill, such as George Shultz's proposed carbon fee and dividend. For more information, please contact Citizens' Climate Lobby.
