Thanks for a great editorial on important tipping points (Holmes: “A year for tipping points,” Dec. 30).

You state quite rightly that the voters seem to be out ahead of Obama on many issues. If so, it is important for us to let him know we have his back. Call the White House (202-456-1111) and tell him that it is important for him to refuse to approve the Keystone XL pipeline, and we have his back on this one.

Also, tell him to hold a summit on carbon taxes as a solution to climate change. Our phone calls could be the tipping point for legislation that would prevent polluters from continuing to pollute for free.
